

Inventory and Equipment

Moveables and equipment is a considerable part of the yearly investments in private and public administration.

Everything in its right place

Any modern business venture requires proper equipment in order to operate smoothly. This includes everything from fittings to ventilation and moveables, such as furniture, printers and coffee machines.

Some businesses have equipment that is moved around a lot, over large spaces and between different buildings. In order to avoid unnecessary investments in duplicate equipment, you had better get your house in order.

Getting your house in order

Pythagoras helps you manage your equipment and your moveables. The advantages should be obvious:

- Order and structure
- All info in one place
- Access over your intranet
- Group according to personal preferences
- Reports in various formats

Equipment data

In Pythagoras, you create groups and types of equipment and moveables according to your needs. A certain type of moveable might need many different attributes, while others need fewer. You can easily customise this yourself.

Online access

All information can be published online in order to give everyone easy access to what they need to know. It is also possible to print reports in different file formats for use in processes such as inventory, purchases, etc.
