

Lease Management

Take control over your agreements

Many deals – great costs

It's not unusual for a tenant to have entered into 10–20 leases associated with their facilities. Subsequently, companies and organisations with several facilities accumulate a vast number of leases. There are a number of reasons why you should always have an overview of your leases, such as keeping tabs of termination terms, costs, index paragraphs, etc.

Take control with Pythagoras

Pythagoras gives you every opportunity to take control over your leases and the terms that have an impact on your day-to-day business. There is money to be saved from taking control, many of our customers can testify to that. Other advantages include:

- Never miss terminating a lease in time
- Easy web access to all your leases
- Updated data on your work space
- Easy compilation of information
- Automatically index-linked

All sorts of agreements

Naturally, Pythagoras handles all kinds of contracts and agreements: leases, cleaning contracts, energy subscriptions, security contracts and internal service level agreements.

Never miss a renewal date

Many of our users optimise their work processes by integrating several areas. Registered leases can e.g. be paid automatically using connections to the financial system. Which work processes are the most profitable for you to optimise?
